LATE RETURNS CUT POLLARD'S LEAD

With Few Precincts Missing His Majority is 1078.

MAY BE LESSENED.

Williams Headquarters Practically Acknowledge Defeat by 700 or 800 Votes—Official Count.

Richmond, Aug. 8.—Corrected returns from every county and city in the state, complied today, with but a few scattered precincts missing, cut down the plurality of John Garland Pollard, candidate or Attorney-General in the Democratic primary of last Tuesday, over Judge Samuel W. Williams, to 1,098. The few precincts yet to report are expected to break about even. Mr. Pollard's managers claimed the election last night by 1,700, and while Judge Williams would make no comment on the returns, it was stated at his headquarters that the final figures would probably show Mr. Pollard the winner by about 800. Judge Williams will probably not formally concede defeat until the State Democratic Committee meets to canvass the returns from the various counties. No call for this meeting has yet been issued by Acting State Chairman Echols.

In many counties throughout the State county committees met yesterday and certified the local returns, thus giving absolutely accurate figures for all the cities and more than three-fourths of the counties.

Precincts are missing in fourteen counties, as follows: Albemarle, Alleghany, Amelia, Augusta, Campbell, Carroll, Chesterfield, Dinwiddie, Grayson, Norfolk, Northampton, Nottoway, Powhatan, and Stafford. Northampton has only sent in one or two precincts, and is counted as strong for Pollard Precincts already in from Carroll indicate Judge Williams leading slightly. It was reported from Charlottesville that Albemarle's complete vote was in the hands of the county chairman, and would not be opened until Saturday.

Chairman John Gills, of the Campbell County Democratic Committee, has issued a call for a meeting at Rustburg today to canvass the vote of that county. In Amelia County that it seems to be the purpose there to withhold all information. Three precincts are missing in Norfolk county. Lynchburg reported that it had "raked the earth in vain" for complete figures from Campbell county. From Fredericksburg came the report that the Stafford county returns had been sealed up, and that, after repeated efforts, it had been found to be impossible to get information as to the complete vote in that county. The committee will meet tomorrow to certify the Stafford returns.

After a careful analysis of the missin gprecincts on the basis of the vote they have cast in previous elections the Pollard forces asserted that it would be impossible to overcome the lad already gained.

"If we get one out of six of the vote yet to be reported," was the statement of Mr. Pollard's campaign manager, "we win. As a matter of fact we expect to break more than even with what is to come. Chesterfield is not all and will give us some support. Northampton will pile up our majority. We will get something in Albemarle and in Dinwiddie. Carroll county will not go much against us; Grayson is almost all in hand, and in the others there is only missing small scattering precincts, where the total vote is small. On the figures we have complied from reliable sources we will carry the State by 1,700."

Judge Williams expressed great interest in the figures from many sections last night, but made no comment. While he does not concede defeat, and in fact does not expect to take any action one way or the other until the figures are canvassed, it was practically admitted at his headquarter sthat from the figures in hand, he was defeated by from 600 to quarters that from the figures in mailng precincts might cut down Mr. Pollard's plurality somewhat.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

Col. F. S. Cody, the famous Anglo-American aviator, was killed in an aeroplane accident at Aldershot, Eng., yesterday. Cody was trying out a new aeroplane when he met his death. In the machine with him was a passenger named Evans, who was also killed. They were flying over the open country, most of which is government land, in the Aldershot district and had just reached the government house when their aeroplane began traveling badly and finally fell with a crash to the ground. Several official rushed to the spot and found the bodies of Cody and Evans lying beneath the aeroplane.

An enormous eagle yesterday carried off the four-year-old child of a woodcutter while it was playing near him when he was working in the forest in the vicinity of the village of Andeer, not far from Chur, Switzerland. A large party of hunters, accompanied by dogs, set off to the rescue of the child, but they were unable to find any traces of the eagle or its prey.

The plant of the Union Petroleum Company which occupied the block surrounded by Mifflin, Water, Moore, and Swanson streets, Philadelphia, was wiped out yesterday evening in one of the most serious and costly fires in the city in recent years. The loss will reach $750,000. Fourteen tanks filled with crude oil oil, benzine, and other inflammable products exploded as the flames spraed. Several times the fire, which started from a spark from an emery wheel, spread beyond the confines of the plant.

Chief of Police Matthew Tobin, of New Castle, Del., was injured yesterday by a bullet from his own revolver. He fired at a supposed mad dog. Missing the animal, the bullet struck a stone, and deflecting, lodged in his leg near the knee. The bullet was extracted. Teh dog, after biting a dozen canines and trying to bire several persons, was killed by William Warren. The head was sent to the State laboratory at Delaware College, Newark, to learn if it had rabies.

A darmatic suicide was committed at Hastings, N. Y., early yesterday in view of scores of persons leaning from windows around Depot Square. Aloca Metterpone, 20 years old, deliberately stepped upon the track in front of a fast freight train and stood with folded arms. The engineer blew the whistle several times. The whistle was blowing, and the brakes were down when the man, who was torn to pieces, was struck.

After a chase of several miles through the suburbs of the North Side, of Pittsburgh, terminating in a desperate battle in the woods on Spring Hill, Patrolman Philip Mall yesterday captured a naked wild man. A powerful foreigner had been annoying residents for several days and repeated efforts were made to capture him. He was turned over to the charities to be examined as to his sanity.

No determined opposition to the administration currency bill will be made by Republicans in the House, according to Leader Mann. He declared yesterday that amendments proposed by Democrats of the Currency Committee would be supported an dthat other amendments in the caucus and the House would perfect the measure so that many Republicans would vote for it. Representative Mann expressed the opinion that, while the House would pass the bill at the extra session, it would be held up in the Senate and that an agreement probably would postpone a final vote until the December session.

Many persons are believed to have been drowned at Newark, Ohio, last night when the pleasure steamer Wilda sank in Buckeye Lake with sixty passengers aboard. The accident was caused by a number of persons jumping aboard the boat as it was leaving the pier, already loaded to its capacity. When it became known that the steamer was sinking a panic followed. Many persons jumped into the lake and were picked up by rescuers. Owing to the excitement it is impossible now to estimate the extent of the accident.

Mount Vernon Council, No. 1, Daughters of America, will meet tonight.

HUERTA IS SAID TO BE DEFIANT

He Still Regards Governor Lind as Persona Non Grata.

HASTY CONFERENCE.

Situation Admitted to be Acute—Battleship New Hampshire Hastening on With Lind.

Washington, Aug. 8.—Official notice was served this morning on the State Department and President Wilson, that President Huerta will not regard as desirable the presence of Governor Lind in Mexico unless he brings credentials in proper form and recognition of the Huerta government. Notice from the Mexican President was delivered to the State Department from the American embassy in Mexico City.

This action has precipitated the crisis. Upon receiving it this morning, Secretary Bryan at once hurried to the White House and consulted with the President. He refused to state what action would be taken. Following his call the President conferred at length with the Secretary of the Navy.

If, as press dispatches from Mexico indicate, Huerta orders the envoy deported as an "undesirable alien," or permits him to be molested or assaulted, it may not mean intervention. It might mean war. At all events, the United States, having exhausted every peaceful means of restoring order, would be placed before the world as having suffered an open insult.

The battleship New Hampshire, carrying Mr. Lind to Vera Cruz, is fast nearing her destination. She will reach here this evening. With her arrival will come the real crisis.

PROTECTION OF FISH.

Maryland and Virginia Governors and Commissioners to Meet in September.

Washington, Aug. 8.—To discuss plans for the protection of the fish and the fishing industry of the Chesapeake Bay and its tributaries, Dr. E. L. Jones, deputy commissioner of the United States fish commission, has arranged for a conference to be held here about the middle of September between Secretary Redfield of the Department of Commerce and the governors and fish commissioners of Virginia and Maryland.

The conference will consider a bill introduced by Representative Linthucum, of Maryland, which would grant Federal protection, and discuss means to be adopted in case the measure is not passed.

Dr. Jones said yesterday that the best plan would be to have the federal supervision of fishing in the Chesapeake and its tributaries, but if this could not be obtained the two states should pass laws establishing a closed season from sunset Saturday until Monday morning to give the fish a chance to get up stream and should prohibit the catching of sturgeon for two years.

Federal aid in protecting the fish in these waters, it has been found, can be extended under an old harbor and river bill, which reuires that at least one third of the channels be kept clear, light be set on stakes at night, that the owner's name appear on the stakes and that they be taken up entirely in the winter.

"For the sake of a few thousand dollars now," said Dr. Jones, "some of the fishermen by their wanton methods threaten to destroy in a few years an industry worth many millions."

PNEUMONIA CLAIMS SENATOR JOHNSTON

Alabama Statesman Passes Away This Morning in Washington.

WAS LEADING FIGURE.

Elected Six Years Ago by Democrats and Republicans to Succeed Senator Pettus.

Washington, Aug. 8.—Joseph Forney Johnston, Senator from Alabama, former governor of that state, and for more than a quarter of a century a leading figure in public affairs, died at 8:15 o'clock this morning at his apartments in the Brighton.

At his bedside when the ned came were his wife and his son, Forney Johnston, who arrived from Birmingham, Ala., yesterday in answer to a summons from his mother announcing the serious condition of the Senator.

Senator Johnston had been in poor health for several weeks, and on August 1 was confined to his room. Several days ago Dr. Sterling Ruffin diagnosed his ailment as nuemonia.

Under the care of his physician the veteran statesman seemed on the road to recovery. His fever had risen once or twice during his illness, and coupled with the weakening of his pulse, had caused his relatives to worry. They did not apprehend serious consequences, however, despite the age of the patient, as he was of robust constitution and held his years well.

Last night the Senator's fever was lower than it had been during the preceding hours, and Dr. Ruffin and those at his bedside did not consider him in imminent danger. He gradually weakened during the hours after midnight. This weakness was noted by his wife and son and his physician, all of whom were at his side when the end came.

Joseph Forney Johnston was elected to the United States Senate just six years ago yesterday. He was the unanimous choice of the legislature of his state, receiving the Republican as well as the Democratic vote, to fill out the unexpired term of E. W. Pettus, deceased, ended March 3, 1909, also for the term ending March 3, 1915.

The successor to Senator Pettus was born in Lincoln county, North Carolina, in 1843, and was reared on his father's farm near Charlotte in his native state. He was the eleventh of twelve children. His forefathers were of the stalwart Scotch stock which came to North Carolina after the battle of Culloden in 1745.

TRIAL OF FRANK.

Witness Tells of Girls Seen With Accused.

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 8.—Only three witnesses were called by the state yesterday in the trial of Leo M. Frank for the murder of Mary Phagan.

Counsel for the prosecution announced when the last of these, Dr. H. F. Harris, was called, that the state would rest its case when his examination had been concluded.

Dr. Harris previously had testified but collapsed during his examination and was unable to complete his testimony.

Interest today centered largely in the testimony of C. B. Dalton, mentioned in the testimony of James Conley. Dalton testified that he had visited the pencil factory where the Phagan girl's body was found. He swore that he had met the defendant at the factory and that Frank had received women visitors in his office. Dalton gave no specific dates either in his direct or cross-examination.

MISS WARRINGTON TO TAKE THE STAND

Ready to Testify at Trial of Diggs in White Slave Case.

IS ANXIOUS TO TALK.

Trial May be Brief—Letter Alleged to Have Been Written by Accused Introduced.

San Francisco, Cal., Aug. 8.—When today's session of the trial of Maury L. Diggs, on charge of violating the Mann white slave law began, the indications were that Miss Martha Warrington, with whom Diggs is alleged to have eloped to Reno, from Sacramento, would be called to the stand.

She has been waiting in the district attorney's office for several days, and is said to be impatient to go to the stand. She is expected to sive all the details of her relations with Diggs and to describe the events before and after the arrest of Diggs and Drew Caminetti in the bungalow they rented in Reno.

The trial will not be long drawn out. The government attorneys declared today that they expected to close their case in a day and a half of testimony, and the defense is expected to occupy about the same length of time.

The most prominent feature of the evidence so far was the introduction of a letter sent to Miss Warrington from a hotel in Berkeley, after she had returned from Reno. It was addressed to "Dear Pickles" and signed "Tom," and is alleged to have been written by Diggs. The letter urged the girl to be cheerful, saying all would end well if she would only remember what he had told her to say.

The note ends with the remark:

"Wait till the clouds roll by."

J. H. Stevens, vice-president of a national bank in Sacramento, testified that the letter was written in Diggs' handwriting. Attorney Devlin, of the defense, cross-examined him at length, but failed to change his testimony.

J. F. Peck, a Reno real estate man, told of renting a bungalow there to Diggs and Caminetti.

The court announced today that adjournment would be taken at the close of today's session until Tuesday morning.

Attorney Wise visited the shop and both boarding houses seeking information as to the peculiarities of young Jones. From information gained from Attorney Wise the plea of Jones will be insanity.

He stated that several members of young Jones' family at times were insane, his father being especially peculiar.

Attorney Wise only spent a part of one day in Suffolk.

Early yesterday afternoon a fight took place in the northeastern section of the city between a colored man known as "Sonny" Barbour and Lewis Baltimore, also colored, during whic hthe latter was seriously cut on the right side. Officer Nicholson conducted Baltimore to Doctor Moore, who took nine stitches in his wounds. Later Barbour was taken in custody. The case came before the Police Court this morning, when Baltimore alleged the assault was unprovoked, and the witnesses corroborated his testimonyy. It was shown that the two men had been engaged in a quarrel. Barbour, in his defense, alleged that Baltimore had thrown him down and was beating him, and that he used his knife in self-defense. Barbour was fined $50. He was unable to pay the assessment and will serve three months in jail.

Jake Brooks and Martha Meyers, both colored, engaged in a fight in the same section of the city yesterday. They were also before the court this morning. The woman's head had been cut during the row. Thomas A. Hulfish, chief of the recently proposed Rosemont Volunteer Fire Department, is expected to soon announce his selection of fire laddies who are to be responsible for the protection of Rosemont, Alexandria's pretty suburb, against possible damage by fire. Mr. Hulfish, with the assistance of the ladies and other residents of the suburbs will in the near future hold a lawn fete during which a large bonfire is to be set off and the newly organized fire department given an opportunity to show what it can do in the way of putting out a fire. This will also be the occasion for the testing of the new fire hose and apparatus.

LIQUOR DISTILLING.

usiness Shows Growth in Richmond District.

Richmond, Va., Aug. 8.—The rowth in the liquor distilling busi_ ess in the second revenue district f Virginia from 236,594 gallons in 906 to 964,182 in 1912 shows the im_ ortant position this section of the ate is taking in this industry.

The figures of the fiscal year of 913, which have just been compiled y Revenue Agent Chapman, show a istinct falling off in amount, which ecrease is attributed to the order is_ ued by former Commissioner Royall . Cabell, and suspended by Commis_ ioner W. H. Osbzorn, calling for ad_ itional safeguards against fraud. During last year the distilleries sus_ ended for several months and resum_ d operations only after Commission_ r Osborne had removed the ristric_ ion.

An interesting portion of the sta_istics is that showing the increase n the amount of spirits produced er bushel of grain. For instance, 8,134 bushels of grain were used in 906 to make 236,594 gallons of whiskey, an average of 3.067 gallons er bushel, while 210,280 bushels of rain in 1913, made 853,544.4 an ever_ ge of 4.077 gallons per bushel.

This increase of production is said o be due to restrictions placed by the epartment and the activities of the fficers of the district in the discharge f their duties. Formerly little at_ ention was paid to the operations of he distilleries. Now officers visit very one frequently and make thor_ ugh inspections of the records, ma_ erial on hand and general conditions bout the plants.

JACK GRIM NEARING DEATH.

Former Virginia League Magnate is Raving Lunatic.

Lynchburg, Va., Aug. 8.—A guard attached to the Southwestern State Hospital at Marion is tha authority for the statement that John J. Grim, the former minor league baseball manager and owner, who has been in that asylum for four or five months, is not far from death. A raving maniac, Grim imagines he is in charge of a baseball team. He is kept confined closely in his cell, but spends his time in sending and receiving imaginary telegrams in his efforts to gather together a winning aggregation. Lately he has lost flesh and strength, and the belief is expressed that his death cannot be far in the future.

At the time Grim was detained here when it became apparent that his mind was failing him, he had the franchise in a new league near New York City, the New York-New Jersey league. He was to have owned and managed the Kinston team, which is now tucked away in fifth place in a six-team race.

Up to the end of his career as an active manager, which terminated with his dismal failure last season at Newport News, Grim was one of the best known managers in the minors. He had handled teams from coast to coast and from the Great Lakes to the Gulf, but his signal success from a financial standpoint was when he owned the Lynchburg franchise in the Virginia League for two seasons and a half, in which time he cleaned up about $20,000.

Grim sunk about $4,000 last season in Newport News, and his friends here claim that this condition brought about the real collapse of his mental faculties.

Grim was one of the organizers of the South Atlantic League, from which the present North Carolina circuit grew, as well as the Virginia League and the Union Association in the far west.

A Destructive Storm.

Bristol, Va., Aug. 8.—A destructive storm swept over Southwest Virginia yesterday morning, ending the most disastrous drought in years, which has particularly destroyed the corn crop in many localities. Barns were burned, horses and cattle killed and much other damage was done by lightning. John Harris, of this county, lost his barn, six head of horses, one thousand bushels of wheat and a large amount of hay when the barn was struck by lightning. Sam Pence, of Arcadia, lost his barn and its contents. There were several other damaging fires caused by lightning.

FREAKS OF LIGHTNING.

Houses in the Vicinity of Manassas Damaged.

Manassas, Va., Aug. 8.—During the thunder storm in this section of the county a few nights ago lightning played many queer pranks and struck several times within a radius of a few miles of Manassas. The nearest flash took effect at the residence of Rev. and Mrs. T. D. D. Clark, on Main street extended. The lightning struck on the chimney and ran down into the kitchen, knocking the stove pipe down and spreading several inches of soot on the floor of the room. Members of Rev. Clark's household heard the crash and immediately went down stairs. As they opened the door leading into the kitchen, lightning was still playing around the room. It also took effect in the bath room and finally spent itself upon reaching the ground. Little damage was done although it gave the occupants of the house a considerable scare.

The next crash struck near a bedroom window at the residence of Boston Steele, near Manassas. The family left the house as soon as possible, thinking it had caught fire, as several of the rooms were filled with dense smoke. No sooner had they left than another less sever flash struck the house, although both did little damage.

During the same storm the lightning struck and killed a cow on the Robert Portner estate, and also a steer on the farm belonging to W. H. Hayden, a few miles from town.

At the farm of Geo. W. Payne, three miles from Manassas, the lightning struck the house but little damage resulted.

NEGRO IS MURDERED.

Railroad Hand Shoots and Kills Another and Then Makes His Escape.

Petersburg, Va., Aug. 8.—A murder occurred yesterday morning in Dinwiddie county, at a point near the intersection of the Seaboard Air Line and the Norfolk and Western belt line about five miles from the city.

It appears that Tom Wiley and Malcolm Carter, two South Carolina negroes employed as section hands on the S. A. L. arose this morning about 6 o'clock, and that shortly thereafter Carter shot Wiley with a pistol, the ball entering Wiley's forehead between the eyes and killing him instantly.

Carter immediately fled for parts unknown and there is no clue as to what direction he has taken.

Negro Killed.

Charlottesville, Aug. 8.—Chesapeake and Ohio fast train No. 1 for Cincinnati ran over a negro named Isaac Briggs at Crozet Wednesday night and inflicted fatal injuries Briggs was crossing the track near the depot, where the citizens of Crozet have been urging the erection of gates, when the fast flyer caught him and hurled him twenty feet from the roadbed.

The train crew knew very little about the accident except that the man stepped on the track and apparently took several steps toward the onconmin train. He died within two minutes.

The Truth About Electric Cooking
For large families where the average domestic help is employed and a large amount of cooking done, Electric Cooking will be found more expensive, and in most cases not advisable.
In small families, where no help is employed, and where nice equipment is desired, Electric cooking will be found many times more convenient, more certain in results and safer in operation—as well as reasonable in cost.
In every family a few utensils for early breakfast emergency and special uses—and for cheering up cold meals with a warm dish or two—is highly advisable from every standpoint, including that of economy.

ANNIVERSARY OF FRIGHTFUL DISASTER.

Today is the fortieth anniversary of the burning of the steamer Wawasett, off Chatterton, about fifty miles south of Alexandria, by which nearly one hundred persons perished. The steamer left this port early on the morning of Friday, August 8, 1873, for the lower river landings, and when drawing near Maryland Point fire broke out in the galley, or kitchen.

The steamer was in charge of Captain John Wood, who, finding it impossible to check the flames, turned the prow of the burning boat towards the Virginia shore. He and the pilot remained at their posts until the tongues of flames were entering the pilot house and burning the ropes from the wheel. Both were painfully burned.

The ill-fated steamer soon ran aground bow on, when terrible scenes followed. Passengers abaft the paddle boxes had their way forward cut off by the flames, and most of these were either drowned after having jumped overboard or were burned to death.

Passengers who happened to be in the bow of the boat were soon forced overboard by the advancing flames, but most of them were rescued.

A majority of those who perished were colored people who were aft in the saloons when the fire broke out. They launched a boat, but so many jumped into it as to over turn it and they all drowned.

The wife and children of the late Charles M. Griffin lost their lives on this occasion.

The steamer Lady of the Lake, from Norfolk, came along later in the night and brought most of the survivors to this city. Some of the passengers managed to get ashore and made their way to Fredericksburg and returned to Alexandria by rail.

Five years later, the steamer Express which ran on the Baltimore route, was lost off Point Lookout during a storm.

These maritime disasters were the most serious that ever occurred to Potomac river boats. The explosion of the boiler of a ferry steamer known as the Union, which ran on the route between this city and the opposite Maryland shore occurred in the thirties. This accident occurred at what was known as the old ferry, a short distance north of John Swift's place. A number lost their lives in this disaster.

MR. DONOHOE IS PEEVED.

We had not the slightest idea when we referred to the primary in Fairfax a few days ago that our editorial endorsing Mr. Oliver would have been followed by such a volcanic outburst as is found this week in the Fairfax Herald from the pen of former State Auditor S. R. Donohoe. We do not know whether to ascribe Mr. Donohoe's anger to the torrid weather, the election of Mr. Oliver, whom he so strenuously opposed, or to the fact that there is perhaps more than mere rumor in the oft-repeated story of the political ambition of a certain Fairfax gentleman. If it is the latter, we certainly can disclaim any responsibility for the circulation of the story and will even deny that there are any political ambitions left in the gentleman in question after the result of last Tuesday's election.

Mr. Oliver was elected by a comfortable majority, although he was bitterly fought by Mr. Donohoe both personally and through the columns of his paper. It was a humiliating defeat for the former state auditor.

WHAT NOW, MR. PRESIDENT ?

The mission of ex-Governor John Lind to Mexico having already complicated a situation sufficiently serious to cause the country the greatest anxiety, what will be the next, Mr. President ? Has not the time arrived to drop all the silly talk about peaceful measures and take some action that will really count? We know the Mexican people well enough to say that every minute's delay is futile and will be followed by more serious consequences than have been felt in a decade by the American people.

NEGRO HELD AS WHITE SLAVER

Opium Found in His Tent Offered in Evidence.

Winchester, Va., Aug. 8.—Sam Franklin, a mulatto, recently arrested in Harrisburg, Pa., and brought here, charged with volating the Federal White Slave act, was given a hearing yesterday before United States Commissioner Tavenner and held in $10,000 bond for the grand jury of the September term of the Federal District Court at Lynchburg. He was unable to give bail and was committed.

Irene Whalen, chief witness for the government was committed in default of $1,000 bail. Various county officials, several mulatto women and officers an dtroopers of the United States Cavalry instruction camp, near which a midnight raid was made recently by Sheriff Pannell upon a tent ocupied by Franklin and women companions, testified for the government. A surprise came when a large can of opium, taken from Franklin's moving picture tent, was offered in evidence along with many love letters sai dto have passed between Franklin and mulatto women of New York and Vermont. The writer urged the women to come here.

Good Reason for His Enthusiasm.

When a man has suffered for several days with colic, diarrhoea, and other form of bowel complaint and is then cured sound and well by one or two doses of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarhoea Remedy, as is often the case, it is but natural that he should be enthusiastic in his praise of the remedy, and especially is this the case of a severe attack when life is threatened. ALEXANDRIA. VIRGINIA

A Good Investment.

W. D. Magli, a well known merchant of Whitemound, Wis., bought a stock of Chamberlain's medicines so as to be able to supply them to his customers. After receiving them he was himself taken sick and says that one small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and diarrohea Remedy was worth more to him than the cost of his entire stock. For sale by all dealers.

Costly Treatment.

"I was troubled with constipation and Indigestion and spent hundreds of dollars for medicine and treatment," writes C. H. Hines, of Whitlow, Ark. "I went to a St. Louis hospital, also to a hospital in New Orleans, but no cure was affected. On returning home, I began taking Chamberlain's Tablets, and worked right along. I used them for some time and now I am all right." For sale by all dealers.

ATTACKS NEGRO'S EVIDENCE.

Seeks to Show That State's Star Witness Has Told Conflicting Stories.

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 8—Attacking the testimony of James Conley, chief witness for the prosecution in the trial of Leo M. Frank for the murder of 14-year-old Mary Phagan, attorneys for the defense yesterday sought to show that the negro was unworthy of belief. Henry Scott, representative of the National Detective Agency, employed by the National Pencil Co. to investigate the case, testified that Conley had repeatedly told him one thing and the city detectives another. Scott also swore that he informed the police immediately after the discovery of the murder that Mrs. Arthur White had seen a negro sitting at the foot of the factory steps when she visited the pencil plant on April 26. The prosecution contended that this information had been withheld from the state until June 7.

Interest today centered largely in the testimony of C. B. Dalton, mentioned in the testimony of James Conley. Dalton testified that he had visited the pencil factory, where the Phagan girl's body was found He swore that he had met the defendant at the factory and that Frank had received women visitors in his office. Dalton gave no specific dates either in his direct or cross examination

Dr. Harris reiterated certain statements in his previous testimony. These included the declaration that the Phagan girl was killed a half-hour after eating certain articles shown in court, and that she was assaulted just before death. The state rested at the close of his testimony.
